Legislature Guided on Local Decisions by Out-of-Towners

An active role by many state legislators residing far from the Quad-Cities and Madison County proved decisive in killing or delaying a number of bills regarded as of benefit to this region, local area legislators said this week.

Their review of the spring General Assembly session which ended last weekend indicated that "Madison County experts" from such far points as Peoria, Kankakee and the Chicago area were able to persuade legislative leaders to take destructive actions at key points in committee and floor deliberations affecting Southwestern Illinois.

One of the examples cited was the way in which out-of-town legislators circumvented Senator Sam Vadabene's successful effort to line up 30 favorable votes to divide the East Side Levee and Sanitary District along the Madison-St. Clair Counties line.

When one senator started to leave, Sen. Edward McBroom (R, Kankakee) asked for a roll call to verify the passage. Vadabene called out to the departing legislator and persuaded him to stay, but another slipped away and the affirmative vote was reduced to 29, one short.

Following this occurrence on June 23, Vadabene sought a conference committee to keep the levee district proposal alive on the final day of the session, June 30.

When a Republican on the conference committee, Sen. Jack Graham of Barrington supported it, they replaced him with Sen. Robert Mitchell of Oswego, who also backed it. Then they replaced Mitchell with Sen. Kenneth Davidson of Peoria, who said he would vote whatever way Sen. McBroom and Sen. Terrell Clarke told him to.

Senator Vadabene, Edwardsville Democrat, also expressed disappointment that Republicans in the House of Representatives refused to allow the bill calling for construction of a convention center in this region to pass to the floor.

"It seems to me that they got the word from the governor that this bill should not pass," Vadabene said.

"I absolutely refuse to be put aside so easily, and intend to re-introduce this legislation. 'Maybe sometime we will have Republican leadership that will be sympathetic to the needs of our area and not only allow, but encourage, passage of helpful legislation,' he said.

The money for construction of the Convention Center was to come from taxes paid by horse race tracks into the Agricultural Premium Fund. The same method of financing was proposed for the local facility as is used for McCormick Place in Chicago.

"It remains a mystery to me how something (McCormick Place) can be so right for Chicago and receive bi-partisan support and so wrong for the second most populous area in the state," Vadabene said.

"I think it should be noted that this bill passed the Senate even though only one Republican voted for it.

"I firmly believe we are entitled to this convention center. 'Since it does not involve any increase in taxes, it will go into my file on unfinished business for future sessions of the legislature.'"

Budget for City to Top $4 Million

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A Granite City corporate budget of $4,060,000 for the 1972-73 fiscal year — the highest in the city's history and an increase of $284,294 over an appropriation bill proposed earlier this year by Mayor Donald Partney — was presented city council members Monday night amid threats by the mayor that he will veto many parts of it if it is passed in its present form. Council members took no action on the budget proposals Monday night after Alderman Steve Basarich, chairman of the council's Finance Committee, announced the budget copies had been distributed to the aldermen for study prior to consideration and possible final action in the next meeting July 17.

Mayor Partney, who is ill and confined to a St. Louis Hospital, notified the aldermen by letter that the newly proposed budget is well in excess of the city's potential income for 1972-73 fiscal and that its adoption would create serious municipal financial problems.

"Must Meet Income 'I have gone over the proposed increased budget and can see no reason for the increases... we must keep within our income,' the mayor's message said. 'There must be no increase to the taxpayers. I would have to veto many of the increases presented if this budget is passed,' he added.

Basarich remarked that the budget proposal presented by the mayor in April failed to take into account salary increases, essential equipment purchases and other items resulting from increased demands on city government services.

"The Finance Committee met with department heads and city officials in preparing this budget, and we (the committee members) feel it is a fair one. All we ask is that when you build it over, give us a fair shake," Basarich said, adding that "I think the mayor will go along with us."

Granite City is required under state law to complete its 1972-73 budget by the end of this month. The 1972-73 fiscal year began May 1 and the city has been operating since

Walker's Secret Weapon—Big, Articulate, Personable Family

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

"It's hard to keep up with him. He sets the pace for all of us." How many fathers would enjoy hearing such a description of themselves expressed by their offspring with pride and admiration? The comment was made by two of the attractive daughters of Dan Walker, Democratic nominee for governor of Illinois, during a visit to the Press-Record office Monday.

Both Kathleen, 24, and Julie, 21, admitted that their 48-year-old father is the pace setter and keystone around which his large and hardworking family frequently regroups, gathers renewed energy and fans out on his behalf to all sections of the state.

Several factors distinguish the current campaign of Dan Walker, setting it apart from gubernatorial contests seen in this state in recent years.

Some elements that veteran politicians credit for Walker's surprising upset victory in the primary election over established vote-getter and party-endorsed Lt. Gov. Paul Simon of Troy, are vividly evident in the candidate's present campaign.

Family Participation

Prominent among his earlier and current electioneering are Walker's walking tour through Illinois, a journey on which he met thousands of individuals, and the efforts of his devoted and intrepid family, including participation in varying degrees by his wife, Roberta, and all seven children.

"Young people are very much a part of the campaign," Kathleen said, "although all age levels are involved."

"Dad listens to people and believes that others can come up with good ideas," Julie commented.

She added, "He thinks that at some time in their life every one should get involved in politics... and look at the man behind the candidate's formal image."

Believes in Youth

"He has said many times that if an 18-year-old is old enough to fight for his country, he is old enough to vote for president and to be given the creditability he deserves," Kathleen said.

"Dad has a great deal of respect for others and has set an example to us so we have the same feelings of respect," Julie remarked. "We are very proud of him."

Kathleen, a graduate of the University of Santa Clara with a degree in economics, gave up her job as an account assistant at the Bank of America in San Francisco in February to help

Steinhauser and Milonski Are Promoted

Promotions for Al P. Steinhauser and Mitchell B. Milonski were announced today by Carl O. Sandberg, president of the American Steel Foundries. Steinhauser, works manager of the Granite City ASF plant since 1951, has been named assistant vice-president, manufacturing.

Milonski, assistant works manager of the Granite City plant since 1951, has been advanced to the position of works manager, succeeding Steinhauser.

He will be based in Chicago at the company's general offices to supervise Granite City operations and also to coordinate the other ASF steel foundries, in Alliance, O., and East Chicago, Ind. The three plants have a total employment of 2,400.

GC Council Asks Levee Split Bill Be Revived

Granite City Council members made it clear Monday night that they were unhappy over failure of the General Assembly to approve legislation that would have divided the East Side Levee and Sanitary District into two separate Madison County and St. Clair County Districts.

On a motion by Alderman Sam Whitmer, the council voted to send letters to all district legislators and to Governor Richard B. Ogilvie asking that the bill be revived in next year's legislative session.

The proposal to divide the levee district was supported in the House by State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City) and in the Senate by State Senator Vadabene (D-Edwardsville). The measure failed to clear the Senate Conference Committee by one vote in the closing hours of the assembly.

Steinhauser resides at 1615 Lindell Blvd. with his wife, Gladys, and son, Paul, who is majoring in chemical engineering at Purdue University. The four Steinhauser daughters, Ruth, Janice, Mary and Claire, are married.

He serves as an executive board member of the Tri-Cities United Fund, Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council and Southern Division, Illinois Manufacturers Association.

Steinhauser also is a board member of the Tri-City Area YMCA, Urban League, Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities and Tri-Cities Taxpayers Expenditure Survey Group.

He has headed the two Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities and Tri-Cities Taxpayers Expenditure Survey Group.

HIGHWAY COLLISION AFTERMATH shows the upside-down 1964 auto of John Van Deusen, who escaped injury, following an accident with a car driven by Harry Miller, 68, of 2123a Edison Ave., to the front but stayed on the highway at Routes 35 and 162 at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. The Long Lake rescue squad administered first-aid while the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department assisted. Miller was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of a jagged cut to the lower lip, requiring eight sutures, and contusions to the right knee, elbow and rib area. He was released following x-rays. The picture was taken by Robert J. Fischer.

Lyons Failing to Dent Scott Armor Thus Far

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield — Statehouse supporters of Attorney General William J. Scott are suggesting that if over, give us a fair shake," Basarich said, adding that "I think the mayor will go along with us."

Granite City is required under state law to complete its 1972-73 budget by the end of this month. The 1972-73 fiscal year began May 1 and the city has been operating since

Republican incumbent, William G. Stratton, in 1956.

In the view of Statehouse strategists, Democrats as well as Republicans, Lyons' campaign started off on the wrong track and has gone steadily downhill.

An apparent attempt to attract statewide recognition, Lyons, admittedly a political unknown in comparison with the popular Scott, launched into an early series of charges against the attorney general.

Virtually all of them have already blown up in Lyons' face. He has created a credibility of his own so wide that few doubt it can ever be bridged by election day.

Typical of the blunders of the Lyons campaign was a widely distributed charge that Scott had been a spendthrift in the operation of his office. Lyons, who is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, vowed to lead a party effort to trim Scott's new budget request by $100,000.

Scott was quick to fire back in print, pointing out that his office is finishing the current fiscal year by spending approximately $720,000 less than was appropriated for it by the legislature and that he is actually cutting the budget for the new fiscal year by more than $600,000.

Come the day of the big showdown, Scott was at the Senate Appropriations Committee, but no Lyons. Other Democrats made a weak effort to trim the Scott request by $100,000 but were soon persuaded by Scott's Republican incumbent, William G. Stratton, in 1956.

Six Persons Injured In Holdup Accident

Six persons were injured in an accident of autos driven by James E. Hicks, 18, of 1061 Ruth St., and Thomas E. Miller, 21, of Jennings, Mo., at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday at Nameki Road and Clark Ave.

The drivers and four passengers in the Miller auto were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and were released following treatment and x-rays.

Hicks suffered pains and small abrasions to the upper right leg. Miller had small abrasions and contusions above the right eyebrow. Miss Gayle Giedinghagen, 21, of Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo., complained of pains to the head, left shoulder and left hip.

Mrs. Dortha Tippitt, 21, of Florissant, Mo., suffered pains to the left shoulder, left ankle and neck. Steven Tippitt, 6 months, had skull and spine injuries. Amy Tippitt, 6 months, was examined and released.

Plan Pontoon Road Bid Call

A plan to resurface Pontoon Road from Maryville Road to Nameki Road was authorized by the Granite City City Council Monday night after a lengthy discussion in which one alderman tried unsuccessfully to arrange an immediate call for bids for the project.

Council members approved unanimously a motion by Alderman Thomas Boker that the city's motor fuel tax engineers prepare specifications for the improvement as a motor fuel tax project. Approval of the State Department of Transportation is necessary for all projects financed with MFT funds.

Alderman Emerald Daves of the Seventh Ward initiated the discussion when he told the council that he had talked with state highway officials and was told that it would cost from $200,000 to $300,000 to repave the stretch of Pontoon Road which Daves said, "is falling apart."

Daves made a motion that City Clerk Robert Stevens be authorized to call bids for the work immediately.

Stevens pointed out he had no specifications upon which to base an advertisement for bids.

Alderman R. E. Robertson, serving as mayor pro-tem during the illness of Mayor Donald Partney, said the city has motor fuel tax engineers for such matters and suggested they be consulted.

Must Follow Channels

Other aldermen protested that an improvement of Pontoon Road would have to be financed with motor fuel tax funds and that the city would have to follow regular channels in obtaining state approval for the project.

These procedures would require engineering for the project and the filing of proper applications with the State Department of Transportation.

Daves withdrew his motion for an early bid call and Alderman Boker substituted his motion calling for preparation of specifications and engineering work.

M. W. Architects and Engineers, St. Louis, represents the city as special fuel tax engineers.

The council Monday night also approved a motion to call for bids for repair of damage to electrical installations of the main pumping station at the sewage treatment plant, caused by

3 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Breaks for Taxpayers and Extra Funds for Schools, Ogilvie Says

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE
As the spring session of our General Assembly opened, two facts about it stand out:

1. Legislators not only held the line, at my request, on any new taxes—they also enacted vitally needed tax relief bills.

2. Action on many fronts was accomplished despite the lack of a clear-out majority in either House.

When I addressed joint sessions in January and again in March, I urged the members to attempt to minimize crippling partisanship.

Now, it isn't reasonable in an election year to expect a complete lack of partisanship.

But the record of the session indicates that legislators showed a fairly high degree of statesmanship.

Of all the accomplishments—and failures—of the session, tax relief ranks first in importance.

First, the bad news: Voting as a bloc, certain Chicago legislators failed to support a freeze on local taxes for two years.

This important measure easily won majority support—but a three-fifths vote was necessary to give this protection to all Illinois citizens.

I will have to leave it to the Chicago representatives to explain away their failure to join a majority of their colleagues.

The good news was more extensive, and it affects literally hundreds of thousands of Illinois citizens. Here are a few highlights:

—Cash rebates of as much as $500 will go next year to elderly and handicapped persons to ease the pressure of local property taxes or the cost of rented quarters.

—All personal property used by farmers was exempted from taxation, thus lifting an unfair burden imposed by this hated tax.

—In addition to the present exemption of one car and one household of furniture, a flat $5,000 exemption was granted to all persons or businesses still subject to the personal property tax.

These two measures affecting the personal property tax virtually end the tax on individuals and small businesses—a goal we have fought for years to reach.

Retired persons also get a break—both financially and in terms of simplifying their tax returns—on the state income tax, which has been lifted from pension accumulations.

The law wipes out the complicated figuring which ended up costing the state more to monitor than the tax collected.

In overall terms, the lean budget which I presented March 1 survived virtually unchanged, with all programs intact and appropriations substantially enacted as submitted.

The significance of the budget is best viewed in terms of the flat ban on further tax increases I proposed to the General Assembly.

Despite this severe limitation—and despite a record $1.5 billion welfare cost this coming year—the budget continues the expansion of the services people in Illinois badly need.

Examples are the increases provided for public schools, universities and the tremendous increase in state college scholarships.

In three years' time, we have doubled the dollar figure of scholarship aid—from $27 to $54 million, and we expect this fall to make college a reality for some 70,000 students a reality for some 70,000 students who demonstrate need, up from just 29,000 in the 1968-69 academic year.

Figures compiled for me just a day ago show a revealing story of the huge commitment Illinois is making to education.

When all forms of education

Candlelight Tours Set At Old State Capitol

In the shadows cast by the soft glow of flickering candles, weekend visitors to Springfield's Old State Capitol this summer might imagine the figures of Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas stepping out of the past to greet them.

Candlelight tours of the Old Capitol, reconstructed to appear as it did from 1838 to 1876 when it served as the Illinois Statehouse, will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Saturdays throughout the summer beginning Saturday. The final tour will be held Sept. 2.

This is the first time the Old Capitol will be open for evening candlelight tours on a regular basis. The building is regularly open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except New Year's Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. The summer hours remain the same, with the building closing at 5 p.m. on Saturdays and reopening at 7 p.m. for the tours.

More than 750,000 persons—including the President of the United States—have visited the Old State Capitol since it opened in late 1969. There is no charge for admission to the historic site which is operated and maintained by the Illinois State Historical Library and Society.

Junior College Costs Show Wide Variation in State

Copley News Service

Springfield—Soon, every part of Illinois will have to be part of a public community college district, but if development of the new or enlarged districts follows present trends, there will be big differences among them.

Presently, there are 36 public junior college districts with 47 campuses in operation in the state, covering 65% of the state's land area, and 90% of its population. At the close of registration last fall, there were more than 187,000 persons enrolled full or part time with more part-time than full-time students.

There are generalities they share end.

A breakdown of financial data recently compiled by the Illinois Junior College Board shows that there is a wide discrepancy in what the school take in, and what they spend, according to the location of the specific district.

In Chicago, for instance, there is a $12.7 billion tax base while the Shawnee district has the lowest tax base, $166 million.

Red Cross Life Saving Course Opens Monday

The last Red Cross Life Saving and Water Safety Class of the summer will start at Wilson Park swimming pool.

Junior and Senior Life Saving will be offered at the same time. The classes will start at 11:30 a.m. and run till 12:45 on weekdays for two weeks, ending July 21.

The course will be taught by Angela Epperson and Cathy Robertson, Red Cross water safety instructors. The course will include practical work in the water, and theory and lecture segments. Instruction included in the course covers safe swimming habits, safe bathing places, elementary and swimming rescue and safety in operation of canoes and boats.

Persons 11 years of age and older who are good swimmers and live in the Granite Park District, are eligible to attend the class. Persons successfully completing the course will be certified in Red Cross Junior or Senior Life Saving, depending on age.

Junior certification is not required to be certified for Senior Life Saving. There is no charge for attending the water safety course, but one dollar is required for the purchase of Granite Park District Insurance.

Persons interested in enrolling in the course should appear in person at the Wilson pool office. Additional information can be had by calling the office at 876-7466.

$635 STATION BURGLARY Money and items valued at $635 were stolen in a burglary at the Numeoki Motor Service Station, 2801 E. 23rd St., after midnight, it was reported at 6:35 a.m. Wednesday. The money was taken from a cash register and three vending machines. A large amount of cigarettes and candy were taken from the counter. Entry was gained by kicking a hole in the garage door.

The total tax rates actually levied range from a low of 10 cents per $100 equalized assessed valuation at McHenry, to a high of 38 cents per $100 at Rend Lake.

Actual tax revenues generated in districts also vary. At Oakton College, $1,544.76 is raised for each full time equivalent student in the district, while Belleville Area College generates only $42.29—a difference of $1,202.47.

Only a small percentage of the districts' total revenues come from tuition, which also range widely depending on the district's general financial picture.

Students attending Rock Valley College at Rockford pay $15 for each credit hour, where students attending City Colleges of Chicago, Illinois' Eastern College, and Lake and Southeastern, all pay no tuition, though Rend Lake and Southeastern Community Colleges in Harrisburg have recently approved tuition for the future.

Source of Revenue Overall, the schools receive almost 46% of their income from local taxes including "charge-backs" paid by other districts for students attending from out-of-district, while a little over 37% comes from state apportionment. Only 2.5% of the total income is in federal money, while a little over 13% is generated by student tuition and fees. Only one-tenth of one percent is raised by organized activities.

The biggest single part of the system's expenditures goes for instructional programs, which account for 53.2% of the outlay. Next biggest expenditure is for bond debt service, which accounts for a little more than 11%, while operation and physical facilities, and "other," each account for about 10%.

In much smaller amounts, 7% is expended for student services, while .04% goes for organizational research, .02% for public service, and .01% for departmental research.

For fiscal year 1972, the system budgeted $158,978,538 in total revenue, and showed audited expenditures of $143,601,743.

MORE ABOUT Walker

In her father's campaign, Julie was graduated in May with a bachelor of arts degree in education from the University of Colorado in Denver, Colo. She plans to teach school this fall in Zion, an Illinois community near the Wisconsin line.

The pair stopped here briefly during a four-day tour of five Southern Illinois counties — Randolph, Monroe, Washington, St. Clair and Madison.

Visit Homecomings
Their trip included visits at the Wood River homecoming, a Knights of Columbus picnic in DuBois, the Okaville homecoming and a parade and tour of the Randolph County fair in Steelville.

Little formality is observed during their visits at community gatherings, the duo noted, although Kathleen did make a brief talk when introduced in Wood River.

Mostly they just stroll around and "talk with people."
Both are articulate, Julie admits, however, that she still feels "a little shy" but is managing to get over her bashfulness. "Everyone is very kind," she said.

What Dad Is Like
"Julie and I want to meet people and tell them what our father is trying to do," Kathleen said.
"We are able to tell the people who want to know what Dan Walker is like as a person and as a father. We then tell Dad about those who talk with us and about their concerns."

Frequent comments to the youthful campaigners revolve around the candidate's walking tour.

"I met your Dad on his walk," "I saw him on television" or "I shook hands with him and talked about education," the older girl reported, are remarks most often heard.

Dad hopes to continue this type of person-to-person... making the government responsive to people and helping them to develop their faith in government," Kathleen noted.

"He plans to meet once a month with residents in different communities, large and small, at some public event. He wants to take a microphone in his hand, go into an audience and ask them what is on their mind."

"Holding an 'accountability session' he calls it," the girls said.

Jeeping Through State
Noting that other members of the family are equally as dedicated to the campaign trail, Julie said her two brothers, Don Jr., 23, a law student at Northwestern University at Evanston, and "Chuck," 17, who recently was graduated from Loyola University, are "jeeping through Illinois."

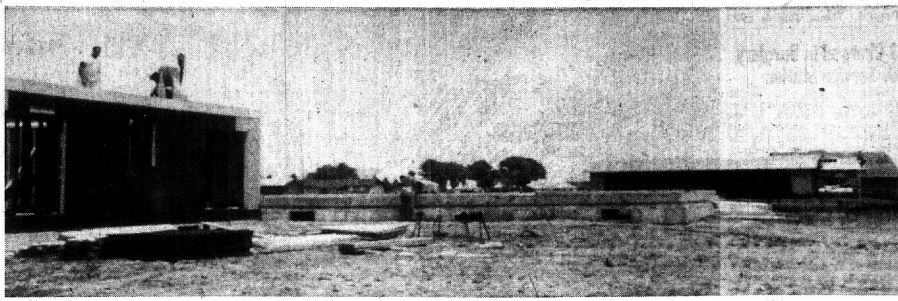

"The boys are visiting towns that Dad could not reach on his walking tour."

"Some of the communities they are stopping at have never before seen a candidate for political office or a member of his family," Kathleen said.

Even the two youngest Walker children are not immune to the political fever frequently induced when a family member is running for office, Julie reported.

"Margaret, 12, and Bill, nine, last week decided to hold a fund-raising campaign for Dad," she said.

On their own, the children organized a "fun fair" roping off a section of the back yard at

Madison to Probe State Land Take for Highway

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Madison City Council last night was requested to give its assistance to residents of the 700 and 800 blocks of Bissell Street who are having their homes taken by the state in conjunction with the extension of Route 151 through Madison.

Alderman John Haynes complained the residents were receiving "a bad deal" as they are being offered $350 to $400 each for the use of the front yards. He charged officials of the State Highway Department have "used rough language" in negotiating with several residents for their property.

Haynes said if the front yards are sold, the residents will be asked to park their cars behind their homes. "There is no room behind the homes to park," Haynes told the council.

He requested that the council review the project and see if anything can be done to help the residents in these blocks.

Attorney Investigating
Mayor Mike Sasyk told Haynes that the city's corporation counsel, George Filcoff Jr., presently is investigating the project and will report his findings and suggestions to the council.

Sasyk appointed two new members to five-year terms on the city's playground and recreation board. Appointed were Jim Riskousky and Edward J. Dohal.

Reappointed were Ruth Fogle, Evelyn Holt and L. C. Harlan to three-year terms on the library board. Edward Dubish was reappointed to a three-year term as a police commissioner.

Sasyk reappointed several city officers to their posts including Chief of Police Frank Dutko, Superintendent of Streets Elmer Smith and Comptroller Lester Finton.

Others reappointed were: Filcoff, corporation counsel; Chris Pasick, health officer; Gene Robertson, assistant health officer; Steve Grakaloff, civil defense director; and Curtis King, assistant building inspector.

Others Reappointed
Casper Nighonshian, city attorney; Peter Mack, building custodian; Pete Skundrich, building inspector; Jack Cory, humane officer; Roy J. Hill Jr., police clerk; William Fanning, youth officer; and Paul Bargiel, police investigator.

The firm of Massie, Fudenberg, Goldberg & Co. was retained as certified public auditor and accountant for the city, and J. Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, Inc. was reappointed city engineer. William Guennewig was appointed radio engineer.

Sasyk said he would complete his appointments for the year at the next council meeting. The alderman concurred with the appointments.

The council accepted the retirement of Tony Turski chief desk clerk for the police department, effective Aug. 1. Turski has served 24 years on the police department.

A report was heard from Dana McRoberts, director of the proposed West Madison Day Care Center in which he told McRoberts said the Economic Opportunity Commission will have invested about $19,000 in improvements and equipment into the center when it opens.

The contractor for the repair and remodeling work is Jesse Norman, 509 Madison Ave., Madison, low bidder on the project. McRoberts explained.

He also said that two new employees have been hired Patricia Bell as cook, and Ed Eckert as a teacher aid.

Mayor Sasyk advised him to meet with Filcoff to complete and sign a contract for the use of the recreation center for the facility.

The council approved the payment of bills totaling $23,523, including $6,400 in police department expenses.

MORE ABOUT

Lyons Failing

presentation that the amount was truly needed in the pollution-prosecution effort.

Democrats withdrew their amendment and joined Republicans in sailing the Scott budget bill through without serious question.

And where was Lyons, who has made a point of accusing Scott of playing politics with the attorney general's office?

He was in Washington appearing before the rules committee of the Democratic National Convention arguing for the seating of himself and 58 other delegates aligned with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

To skeptics, it was a clear case of putting political before public interest.

Lyons' legislative absenteeism has proven embarrassing on other occasions.

Democrats at one point in the session mounted a major push behind a tough anti-lead paint bill, touching an issue extremely sensitive to Chicago slum areas.

On a vote on a critical amendment, Lyons, who as attorney general would have a big say in enforcement of an anti-lead bill, was among those absent in close balloting.

Lyons has been most widely off-target in his shooting at Scott on an allegedly weak effort in enforcing Illinois anti-pollution laws and regulations.

In contrast to this stand, the criticism Scott has attracted in the pollution field is not that he has been too lax in enforcement, but too strict.

Armed Robber Obtains $50 Radio from Cafe

A bandit who threatened to kill got away with a $50 transistor radio in an armed robbery at Shirley's Cafe. It was reported at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Shirley Carlton, proprietor, told police that a man entered the cafe and asked her for all of the money. She said she replied there was none as she had just opened for business.

The man then pulled a snub-nosed revolver and told her to give him the radio sitting on the counter or he would kill her, she said, adding that she complied. He removed the radio from the case, threw the case onto the counter and walked out, she added.

The bandit was described as being about 21, 5 feet 5 inches tall, with medium length blond hair and wearing a brown sleeveless shirt and black-rimmed glasses.

Planning Fee for Changes To New School Is Approved

The Granite City Board of Education has approved payment of $4,775 to Virgil Dulgeroff, architect, for changes in the plans for the new high school at Maryville and Nameoki Roads.

Dulgeroff requested the additional payment for changes necessitated by the school board in deciding to use the new building for a second high school rather than as an elementary-junior high school, as was originally planned.

He said the change required the removal of a planned multipurpose room from the drawings and a total revision of the room schedule, elevations and titles, plus other changes.

The board also authorized $485 for the installation of locking devices on rooftop gas lines for the new school.

The locking devices, not in original plans for the building, will prohibit unauthorized individuals from turning off the gas supply to the units.

Permission was granted to the Illinois State Water Survey, Metromex Program, to use a section of the new high school property from July 11 to Aug. 12 to study the characteristics of wind in the area.

Regional Report -- Industrial Plants Expand

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Two industries made news with announcements that facilities here were to be expanded.

The Nestle Co., with operations in Granite City, has obtained a building permit for a new 57,200-square-foot warehouse. The new structure has a listed value of $450,000.

In East St. Louis, Morris Paint Co. announced a forthcoming 10,000-square-foot expansion of its plant. The company now employs 42 persons and is expected to add more when the expansion is complete.

A second expansion is proposed to follow at a later date. In other industrial news, Corn Sweeteners, Inc., announced that it will continue to operate the former Miles Laboratories plant in Granite City at least through April of next year and possibly longer.

The company has operated the facility on a trial basis since April 1 in order to determine the feasibility of converting it into a modern, efficient corn-milling operation. The plant has capacity to process about 35,000 bushels of corn per day. Corn Sweeteners is a division of the Decatur-based Archer-Daniels-Midland Co.

The board of directors of East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. has approved the construction of a new operations center for the company. The new building, to house the district offices and distribution shop, will be located near the intersection of U.S. 40 and South Illinois Street. Groundbreaking is anticipated to take place this summer.

A new all-time record of nearly 5.5 million tons of freight was shipped through the Chain of Rocks Locks and Canal during May. The previous record of about 5.3 million tons was set in October 1970.

Shipments totaling in excess of 21 million tons have been made through the canal during the first five months of this year. For the same period five years ago, shipments through the canal totaled about 16 million tons.

The merger of two well-known St. Louis real estate firms has created the metropolitan area's largest commercial and industrial real estate company. Turley Corp. and Martin & Associates merged to form the Turley-Martin Co. In addition to other activities, both firms have been strongly identified with downtown St. Louis properties.

"An application by the Missouri - St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority for the region was turned down by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council."

The Council staff recommended that endorsement not be given to the application because the Council should be the major planner for all modes of transportation in the region.

In other Gateway Council news, the board adopted a catch-all resolution, calling on the Task Force appointed by Governors Ogilvie and Hearnes to examine the possibility of weighted voting, paying attention to both need and the one man, one vote principal.

Traffic Fatalities Drop During 1st Half of Year

Illinois traffic deaths during the first six months of the year showed a 10% decline from the same period in 1971, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie announced Wednesday.

As of June 30, the 1972 death toll stood at 1,801, which represented 10% fewer than the 1,107 traffic deaths in the first six months of 1971, Ogilvie said. Statistics compiled by the Illinois State Police and Illinois Department of Transportation showed that June traffic deaths totaled 166, a 15% decrease from the 196 in the same month last year.

Fewer traffic deaths were reported in every month except July during the first half of this year as compared to 1971.

Twenty-five fatalities in June occurred as the result of 78 accidents in which only one motor vehicle was involved. Those killed included 24 motorists, 2 motorcycle cyclists, 4 bicyclists and 56 drivers and passengers.

This total includes 4 fatalities party to a highway grade crossing accident. An additional 81 persons died in 68 traffic accidents involving collisions between two or more vehicles, including 10 motorcycles.

Partner Recuperating After Lung Surgery

A small tumor was removed Monday from the lung of Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City, who is reported in satisfactory condition and recuperating from the surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in St. Louis.

Mrs. Ruth Partney, the mayor's wife, said Wednesday that tests for a bronchial condition revealed a spot on the lung, probably resulting from old scar tissue. "The doctors said the tumor could become an irritant if not removed," Mrs. Partney explained.

Mayor Partney was to be moved yesterday from the Intensive Care Unit, where he has been under observation since undergoing surgery, to the hospital room.

The lung tumor apparently has no relation to a circulatory ailment which the mayor has been suffering, but was discovered during routine chest x-rays, Mrs. Partney said. He is continuing to be treated with medication for the arterial blockage, a condition not expected to require surgery.

Mayor Partney became ill June 3 in his office. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred the next day to St. Luke's Hospital. He is expected to remain hospitalized for another three or four weeks, it was learned.

Rally by Mercer Wins Title Game of Women's Tournament

The Granite City Park District's women's invitational holiday softball tournament was concluded Tuesday night with the championship game and preliminary contests all played at Wilson Park.

In the women's tournament finale on the night of July Fourth, Mercer's edged the Rebels 4-3 in eight innings for the championship, with Judy Stepanek, winning pitcher, allowing only eight hits.

After the seven regular innings of play, the score was tied 2-2. The Rebels picked up one run in the first half of the eighth inning to grab a 3-2 lead, but Mercer rallied in the bottom half of the inning with two runs to win.

Legion Loses 5-3 and Rallies for 5-4 Win

Now 7-5 for the season, the Granite City American Legion baseball team bowed to Cahokia 5-3 in a road game Monday evening and rallied to edge Belleville 5-4 here last night.

The Post 113 will continue Legion play at 2 p.m. Saturday, tackling East St. Louis at the 7th and State Streets diamond there.

Granite City collected nine hits while Vic Reznack was hitting a seven-inning Monday, but failed to bunch them sufficiently.

LIGHTING FOR STUDY. Bonnie Nelson, assistant extension adviser, home economics, conducting a session on study lighting at a 4-H electricity school session. The school is held annually for those 4-H club members interested in electricity. Illinois Power Co. and the Southwestern Electric Cooperative, Greenville, helped man the eight stations on lighting throughout the afternoon's program.

Thirty 4-H Members At Electricity School

Thirty Madison County 4-Hers and leaders attended a mid-summer 4-H Electricity School. The members sat in on eight different stations concerning use of lighting today.

The stations covered topics on light sources, study lighting, agricultural lighting, color and lighting, controls, fixtures for the home, outdoor lighting and special applications.

The school was conducted by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service with the aid of Illinois Power and the Southwestern Electric Cooperative, Greenville. Teaching was done in the stations by Jerry Hagler, Miss Dorothy Davis and Jim Woods, sales representatives for Illinois Power in Wood River, Granite City and Collinsville, and Mrs. Jo Meyer home economics for Illinois Power.

Victor Kerten, director of customer services for Southwestern Electric Cooperative, and his assistant, David Barbey, manned two of the stations. Dave Fischer, assistant extension adviser—agriculture, and Bonnie Nelson, assistant extension adviser—home economics, also aided in teaching at the stations.

Any 4-H'er with an interest in electricity can take part in the activity. Electricity is only one of many activities and projects available for 4-H members. Four-H, the youth phase of the Cooperative Extension Service, is open to any boys and girls between the ages of nine and 19.

RADIO TAKEN FROM TRUCK

A portable radio and a package of cigarettes were taken from the truck of Brunell Hayes, East St. Louis, while Hayes was delivering soft drinks to Barcum's Food Market, 1000 Calhoun St., Venice, at 9:05 p.m. yesterday. Hayes later saw a 16-year old Venice boy with the radio. The youth was arrested but was released after returning the radio to Hayes.

Air Purity Seminar To Be Held This Week

Representatives of Illinois industry will have an opportunity to learn more about newly-adopted air pollution control regulations and related construction and operating permit procedures.

Four seminars—tomorrow and Saturday in Springfield and Monday and Tuesday in Chicago—were announced by William L. Blaser, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The four initial seminars will be followed on later dates by seminars for each of the remaining standard industrial classifications listed in the Illinois Air Pollution Regulation.

Clean Air Goal
"The Illinois EPA is conducting the seminars as a convenience to industry in our continuing efforts toward a goal of clean air without undue hardships to manufacturers," Blaser said.

"Through informational programs like these, we aim to help industry meet Pollution Control Board regulations with a minimum of misunderstanding and confusion as to what may be required of them," Blaser added.

EPA personnel—including technical, legal and administrative staff members—will explain construction and operating permit procedures and data required in applications.

Participating industry representatives will be given extensive time for questions and answers, according to Dr. John J. Roberts, manager of EPA's Division of Air Pollution Control.

Two of the meetings will focus on the rubber and plastic industries and another two will apply to the primary metal industry.

Schedule of Seminars

Seminars are scheduled for Springfield July 7 and 8, beginning each day at 9 a.m. in the Illinois Museum Auditorium. The first session will be for representatives from the rubber and plastics industry, and the Saturday, July 8, sessions is for metal industry representatives.

Chicago seminars are set for July 10 at 1 p.m. and July 11 at 10 a.m. in the Museum of Science first meeting for rubber and plastics interests and the second for those interested in the metal industry.

The seminars are open to the public and to industries regardless of the nature of their operations. But, due to limited space at the Springfield seminar location, industries are being asked to limit the number of representatives they send and to notify in advance the Permit Section, Division of Air Pollution Control, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, 2200 Church Hill Road, Springfield, Ill., 62706.

"It is anticipated the seminars for each standard industrial classification will precede by at least 120 days the date on which an operating permit will be required for that classification," Roberts said.

Application forms, with filled-in examples, will be available at each seminar.

Infant Stillborn at Belleville Hospital

Tonya Marie Carbaugh, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Mary Lou) Carbaugh Jr., 1826 Spruce St., was stillborn at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville.

She also is survived by a brother, Dwayne Edward Carbaugh; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Lois) Carbaugh Sr., of Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Marie) Law of Belleville.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Vietnam Veteran on SIU-SW Dean's List

Richard E. Cobb, 2840 Oregon St., a Vietnam War veteran, has been named to the Dean's List at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus.

Cobb, 25, who is majoring in psychology, maintained an overall 3.5 grade point average during the spring quarter. He began his senior year of study in the SIU-SW College of Education this month.

The ex-serviceman was graduated from Granite City High School in 1964 and served three years in the U. S. Army. In 1966, he was stationed in the Cam Ranh Bay area with the 7th Artillery at a Hawk missile site.

Shortly after former President Lyndon Johnson's visit to Vietnam in 1968, a letter from Cobb was published in the Press-Record in which he described his role as a launcher crewman, his thoughts about the war and his personal experiences in the combat zone.

At that time the Hawk ground-to-air missile had yet to be fired at an enemy plane. Cobb concluded his 1966 letter with the statement, "...There is no doubt in my mind that we will win over the Viet Cong, but before then there will be many tears shed for all those who died so that the Vietnamese people can live without fear of communistic rule."

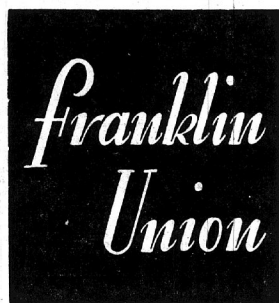

The SIU-SW senior, who resumed his education two years ago, is the son of Mrs. D. G. Leonard of Houston, Tex., and William L. Cobb of St. Petersburg, Fla., both formerly of Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD COY, who were married at Trinity Tabernacle Church in Madison. The bride is the former Miss Sheila Marie Wofford, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wofford, Rural Route One, Granite City.

Sheila Wofford Married At Trinity Tabernacle

The wedding of Miss Sheila Marie Wofford, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wofford of Rural Route One, and Richard Coy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Coy, 3017 Marshall Ave., took place July 1 at 6 o'clock at Trinity Tabernacle in Madison.

Officiating at the evening ceremony was the Rev. C. M. O'Guin, who had married the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wofford, on Sept. 12, 1955. He also united in marriage the bride's parents on Nov. 19, 1949.

The Rev. M. W. Wilson, pastor of Glenview Chapel, offered prayer during the service.

For her wedding, the former Miss Wofford chose an off-white street length dress, designed with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. A white decorative braid encircled the natural waistline and trimmed the cuffs of the long sleeves.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations and daisies.

Miss Debbie Peterson was maid of honor and Randy Keck served as best man.

The honor attendant selected a pink frock, fashioned in similar style to the bride's dress. She carried an arrangement of white carnations tinted pink.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents. The newly married couple is residing in Granite City.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Wofford is employed at Mallinckrodt Chemical Works in St. Louis. Mr. Coy works at Granite City Steel Co.

Two-Year Junior High Curriculum Proposed; Increased Flexibility

A proposal to completely re-vamp the curriculum of junior high schools in Granite City has been presented to the Board of Education by John Haug, guidance counselor at Prather Junior High School, and Awen Humphrey, district curriculum coordinator.

The levels each student has reached after two years in junior high school would be used by the high schools in determining class placement at that level.

The traditional dividing line between the seventh and eighth grades would be eliminated under the proposed system and students would be mixed into heterogeneous groups.

Proposed scheduling calls for the students to spend two consecutive hours in the academic area, two consecutive hours in the skills area and two hours in the interests area, allowing two-hour classes in subjects such as shop and physical education where most of an hour is spent preparing or dressing and only a short time can be allotted to activities.

This would not be an immediate change," Humphrey explained. He said that the junior high schools can be working in the direction of the new curriculum over a period of time. Humphrey also said he expects teachers and administrators to make many changes in the proposal before it would become effective.

Bicycle Club Plans Rides and Meeting

Great River Riders, a local organization of bicyclists, has scheduled a ride every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Members gather at the Grand Avenue parking lot at Granite City High School and ride through the residential areas of Granite City with leader Rupert Ogery.

The riders will meet at 1 p.m. Sunday at Mitchell elementary school for a ride to and around the SU-SW campus. Those participating are to bring a sack lunch and drink as nothing will be sold on the campus. Nancy Mart is leader and may be reached by calling 931-1347. Cost of the trip will be 15 cents.

A business meeting of the organization will be held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Bid Opening Monday on Extra Trash Pickups

Bids for the weekly collection of paper, leaves and other burnable items from Granite City residents will be opened publicly at 10 a.m. Monday in the office of Robert W. Stevens, city clerk.

The extra collections will enable residents to comply with the Environmental Protection Agency law which has halted open burning.

The bids will be for one, two or three-year collection contracts for weekly collections with one additional collection during the month of May each year.

48 Attend 18th Annual Easter Seal Day Camp

The Madison County Easter Seal group has completed its 18th day camp for the handicapped.

Held on the Lewis and Clark Community College campus, it was co-sponsored by the Junior Service League, the Alton Easter Seal Society and the Granite City Easter Seal Society. The camp this year served 48 area children from the ages of two through 11.

Dennis Staton served as camp director, with Miss Carolyn Jones of the Junior Service League as assistant director in charge of speech therapy. Coordinators were Mrs. William Victor and Mrs. Edward H. Cornell. Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Fogle were program assistants. Lewis and Clark College cooperated this year by donating use of the cabin, the swimming pool and the campus area surrounding the pond for the group to hold six different activities: recreation, arts and crafts, nature, music, creative dramatics and swimming.

In addition, special activities such as puppet shows and fishing contests were held.

During the two-week period, the group was visited by the Granite Police and Fire Departments, the Belleville Junior College Reading Choral Group, the Granite City Checkboard Squares dancers and teams from the Thomecek pony farm.

A speech-mobile was donated by the Alton School District. Mrs. Cornell credited the teen counselors with the success of this year's camp, and said, "Where some people give only lip service or money, have the privilege of giving our hands and our hearts through the Easter Seal program."

Mrs. Victor commented that it was rewarding to return for her sixth year with the day camp and see the progress made by the children, and their enthusiasm for the program.

Counselors included Margaret Clark, 14, of 2624 Highway 67; Debbie Doty, 14, of 2470 Center St.; Sandra Grayson, 19, of 802 Kirkpatrick Homes; Helen Gyarmati, 16, of 2549 Waterman Ave.; Cathy Leeper, 17, of 3310 Franklin Ave.; Pat Perdue, 14, of 2113 Grand Ave.; Cathy Stanfill, 14, of 2214 State St.; Debbie Vasiloff, 15, of 2006 Oak St.; and Laura Wilkinson, 15, of 2155 Waterman Ave.

Miss Marie M. Ropp is executive director of the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois.

Major Hairston Retires as Air Force Meteorologist

Maj. Robert L. Hairston, son of Hugh Hairston, 901 Main St., Venice, has retired from the U. S. Air Force following 20 years of service.

A meteorologist, he has been on temporary duty at Scott Air Force Base for the past four years.

He was commissioned as a second lieutenant, after serving as an Air Force ROTC cadet, upon his graduation from St. Louis University in 1952. He majored in natural sciences.

Upon entering active service, Major Hairston studied meteorology at the University of New Mexico for a year and then was stationed at Walker AFB, Roswell, N. M.

In following assignments he flew as a weather officer out of Burtonwood, England, and served as weather instructor at Chanute AFB, Rantoul, where he remained four years.

He next went to Panama, where the Air Force provided meteorological services, one of only two countries to do so. The other was Bermuda.

Major Hairston was commander of the weather station at Kingsley Field, Ore., and was commander of the base weather station at Tan Son Nhut in Vietnam for a year beginning in April 1967. He was involved in fighting during the first Viet Cong Tet offensive. At one stage he flew more than 1,400 hours over the North.

4-H Achievement Days Underway in County

About 700 Madison County 4-H'ers are exhibiting their finished projects at the annual 4-H Achievement Days today and Friday. Judging will take place in the Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville.

All foods, room improvement, flower arranging and baby-sitting projects were being judged today, and all clothing projects will be judged Friday. State Fair delegates will be chosen Friday.

Madison County will send two flower arrangers and 11 models to the State Fair. Garments to be sent for construction will also be chosen and will be sent to the State Fair.

Forty-first-year skirts will be chosen to model at the County Fair. The girls will compete there for a first-year sewing award. All clothing exhibitors who receive an A, B, C, D, and are in the advanced clothing projects also will be modeling at the County Fair and trying for awards there. The County Fair Dress Review is July 24-28 at the Madison County Fairgrounds and begins at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Four-H is the youth phase of the Cooperative Extension Service and is open to youths 9-18. For more information about the 4-H program, contact the Cooperative Extension Service in Edwardsville.

Maria Schmidt Chosen For State Fair Class

At the Advanced 4-H Food and Nutrition Demonstration Contest held in Madison County, with Mrs. Catherine Huss, assistant extension adviser of St. Clair County, as the judge, two team demonstrations were chosen to be given at the State Fair on Aug. 14 and 15.

Janelle Malin and Sue Gieger of the Good Producers 4-H Club in Highland will be demonstrating "Pastry Tarts." A "Swedish Tea Time" will be demonstrated by Lois Givlio and Pam Willard of the Liberty Bell 4-H Club, Edwardsville.

Three other delegates were chosen to attend food classes at the State Fair at the same time — Maria Schmidt, Moonspinners 4-H Club, Granite City; Kim Keller, Pleasant Grove 4-H, Collinsville; and Kathy Hoffman, Good Producers 4-H Club, Highland. The trio will be representing Madison County in the state classes.

Assemblies of God Family Camp Underway

The family camp of the Illinois District Council of the Assemblies of God began Monday at the Lake Williamson Christian Center, Carlinville. Services are scheduled daily from 10:15 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. The meetings will continue through Sunday.

The Bible teacher for each morning session is the Rev. D. W. Hurst, president of Northwest College of the Assemblies of God, Kirksland, Wash.

The daily afternoon services are special youth emphasis meetings with the Rev. Sam Johnson, missionary to Spain. He will also be the main speaker at the World Missions Rally on Sunday. Other outstanding missionaries from many countries of the world will also be taking part.

The Rev. Jimmy Swaggart is the featured guest speaker each evening.

MAJ. R. L. HAIRSTON

formally arrived home for a visit of several days. After a brief visit, he and his wife, Lorraine, and five children went to Klamath Falls, Ore., during the weekend. He plans to remain in the field of meteorology.

Personal Tax Escrow Applies Only To Individuals, Small Business

A procedure under which personal property taxes paid during the current tax collection period in the Quad-Cities and other Madison County townships will be placed in escrow pending a Supreme Court ruling will apply only to taxes paid by individuals and operators of small businesses, it was emphasized here this week.

The escrow plan does not affect the taxes of utilities, corporations or capital stock holders, all of whom would be required to file regular tax protest proceedings in circuit court if they desire to object to payment of personal property taxes, according to the office of George Musso, Madison County treasurer.

Court orders to place personal property taxes paid by individuals and small businesses in escrow resulted from a Supreme Court decision earlier this year which voided the results of a November 1970 referendum in which a constitutional amendment eliminating the personal property taxes for individuals and small business was approved.

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie petitioned the high court to reconsider the matter, and the court agreed to do so. The governor then urged individuals who paid personal taxes this year to make payments under protest so that they would be eligible for refunds if the Supreme Court reverses its original ruling on the amendment referendum.

Cause Confusion Paul Rutledge, Granite City treasurer who now is collecting 1971 taxes for Granite City township, said the confusion resulting from the escrow plan and the fact that it does not apply to corporations, utilities or stockholders is causing difficulty in making collections.

Some larger firms are sending single checks covering their tax bills for both real estate and personal taxes, with no indication that they plan to protest the personal tax, Rutledge said.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD Page 18 Thurs., July 6, 1972

ing single checks covering their tax bills for both real estate and personal taxes, with no indication that they plan to protest the personal tax, Rutledge said.

"I have no authority to place the personal tax in escrow for anyone but individuals and the smaller businesses, and there is no way for me to credit only the real estate if I receive a check covering both taxes," he added.

"The only manner in which utilities, corporations and capital stock holders may protest the personal tax and have it placed in escrow is to file regular protest proceedings in Edwardsville," Rutledge said. New legislation regarding

AUTOS IN ACCIDENT Autos driven by Ricky L. Smith, 2812 Marshall Ave., and Alan Ray Koester, Warrenton, Mo., were in an accident at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday at 2500 Delmar Avenue.

personal property taxes approved by the General Assembly this year have no effect on the present collections, since the taxes now being collected are for the 1971 tax year and were extended under 1971 laws.

Early Childhood Instruction Program Is Being Developed

(Second of a series)
"Early childhood education" is a phrase likely to become much better known throughout Illinois in the coming months. Its impact will be felt in the Quad-Cities beginning in September 1973, when such a program will be placed in effect by the Madison County Special Education District's Region One.

It is considered difficult to briefly present the essential elements of Early Childhood Education. The relatively new field is so vast and the ramifications are so complete that no one aspect or approach can embody the pertinent issues in the field.

Looking into the future, the trends seem to indicate that Early Childhood will encompass a broader definition which includes education for children under eight years of age. At present, it will focus on three-year-olds and four-year-olds. The framework will be a flexible structure in which many ideas and concepts of child development can be interwoven. No one program can be adopted but emphasis will be directed toward the child as a person.

The Illinois Concept of Early Childhood Education is in its embryonic stages, though rapidly developing.

The emphasis is on the child as a person—not on how much subject matter the child can master.

The rationale supports the philosophy that each child is of worth and has an abundance of unrelaxed potential in his being that must be allowed to unfold. Subject matter, in the field as of 1972 is voluminous and constantly changing.

The young child must be taught how to think and respond to his environment. Of greatest value to him will be those experiences that broaden his knowledge and environment. It is felt.

The Illinois Concept seeks to provide experiential enrichment programs for the young child as opposed to formal schooling. These experiences will provide the foundation for discovery and creative learning in later school endeavors, it has been explained by Donna M.

Rudolph, director of Early Childhood Education, whose office is at 1020 South Spring St., Springfield.

The years of early childhood are characterized by rapid growth, plasticity in human potential and susceptibility to environmental pressures.

Children under six have their own, unique, developmental patterns, cognitive and affectual structures, social interactive needs. They also have educational tasks to master that are regarded as important, indeed critical, to later, more structured learning.

It is in the early years that children are most in need of and have the ability to profit from compensatory and intervention efforts, it is believed.

Children whose growth rates and patterns differ significantly from that of their peers, children whose environments are not constructive to growth, are seen as being in need of extra efforts—special education—in order to encourage maximum development.

The basic premise of special education, however, is that children with handicaps, while requiring special attention, also are in need of the same kinds of growth-facilitating experiences that are crucial for all children.

Children with special problems need warm and loving adults, individualized attention, opportunities for socialization, sensory-motor activities, experiences in verbal and non-verbal communication, and respect for their families and communities—just as do all children.

The intent of new state legislation is to provide special education services to an identifiable group of handicapped children not presently being served in the public schools because they are under the age of five years but over the age of three.

For the most part, these children who fall within the frame of reference being applied to current authorized special education programs in the 50-21 age range.

However, a lack of accurate diagnostic instruments for children at the early age complicates any attempt for explicit category determination.

It will be the responsibility of each special education director in the state to submit a com-

Shrine Blood Program Ends at 7 p.m. Today

A semi-annual blood donor program, open to the public, will continue through 7 o'clock tonight at the air-conditioned Nameoki United Methodist Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

The project is sponsored by the Shrine's Shrine Club. Individuals donating blood will insure Honor in cooperation with the family's blood needs for one year, it was explained.

Three Red Cross bloodmobile units, equipped with nine beds, were made available today for the public blood donor program. Blood obtained here will be used for area children who are patients at the Shriners Burns Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio.

In keeping with the intent of House Bill 323, care is to be taken to identify only children who are unable to benefit from existing pre-school programs and/or cannot be expected to develop sufficiently within their own home environment without intervention.

Since children in the age range to be screened have not been enrolled in the public school, special efforts will be made to reach all children showing need.

The exact nature of the screening may vary from community to community because of particular circumstances.

There will be cooperation with a variety of agents and agencies that serve the Quad-Cities population: pediatricians, nursery school leaders, social service personnel, public health nurses, etc.

Referral procedures will reflect the close inter-relationship between this program and all other district special education programs, as well as agencies, clinics and professional workers in the community.

The referral procedures are to demonstrate coordination of information with appropriate referral sources.

Provisions will be made for securing the necessary background information prior to program consideration—including relevant medical, psychological and social histories. Every effort is to be made to develop base-line information that can be used for future comparative purposes.

Child study in early childhood education is the in-depth investigation of a child's developmental levels to provide the necessary information for intervention program design.

Candidates for pre-school programs for the handicapped are likely to show signs of significant discrepancies in critical areas that affect normal growth and development.

Gross physical or motor handicaps, marked intellectual lag, lack of age-appropriate speech and language development and a serious emotional problems, may—in isolation or combination—signal a need for early special education intervention.

Various scales with normative development are available which may help identify those children critically in need of early help.

Avoidance of diagnostic (category) labels for such young children is being strongly recommended.

Thus, eligibility will need to be based on a mutually arrived-at decision by parent and school that a handicapping condition exists that requires early (ages three and four) intervention.

A failure of either party to acknowledge this will suggest that the need has not been sufficiently demonstrated to proceed with program design.

Granite Cityans Home from 16-Day Holy Land Tour; Viewed War Areas

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City Republican Chairman Roy Lynn and his wife, Edna, 2856 State St., have returned to Granite City from a 16-day tour of Europe and the Holy Land.

The Lynns were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Lynn's sister, Mrs. Irene DeFries of Thawville, and by Mrs. Della B. Aulabaugh, 2105 Richmond Ave. They left Lambert-St. Louis International Airport on Saturday, June 10, changed airplanes in New York and arrived that evening in Rome, Italy.

During two days in Italy, they visited Vatican City, the catacombs, the Appian Way and the city's great cathedrals. While in Rome they stayed at the Hotel President Roma.

On Tuesday, June 13, they flew to Istanbul, Turkey, where they visited the Mosque of St. Sophia and took a boat trip on the Bosphorus Strait. In Istanbul, they were guests at the Istanbul Hilton Hotel.

Two days later they flew over Turkey and landed at Tel Aviv Airport in Israel, the scene of a guerrilla attack in June and of several terrorist bombings since the Arab-Israeli Six-Day War. Reminders of the latter attack at the airport included bullet holes in several walls.

"Security was very strict there," Lynn recalled, noting that the tourists were searched and had to fill out questionnaires on their backgrounds and reasons for visiting Israel.

From Tel Aviv, the tour group was taken by bus through Jerusalem, the Wall, the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, Capernaum, the River Jordan, the Wailing Wall, the Mount of Transfiguration and Jericho where they stopped to drink from Elisha's Fountain. They also drank Jacob's Well in Shechem and Mary's Well in Nazareth.

Part of their stay in Israel was at the guest house at Kibbutz Kiryat Ananiam, a communal colony in Jerusalem.

During the eight-day stay in the Holy Land, the group took a boat trip across the Sea of Galilee from Tiberias City to Capernaum and while touring by bus near Mount Hermon, the tourist bus in front of theirs was struck by a bazooka rocket fired by Arab guerrillas.

The rocket, one of four fired at the bus, went through the side of the vehicle and lodged in one of the seats without exploding. Two passengers were injured by glass and metal splinters. Lynn said his group watched a medical helicopter remove the injured tourists from the bus.

He reported that all small side roads were marked with signs saying "Do Not Enter - Frontier."

View War Relics

The bus carrying the Lynns, Mrs. Aulabaugh and Mrs. DeFries then drove into the Golan Heights area of Israel where they saw numerous relics of the 1967 Six Day War.

"I saw a great many military trucks, and other damaged or abandoned equipment lined the roads and hundreds of trenches crisscrossed the area," the tourists said.

The group then returned to Tiberias and found that Israeli troops had crossed the border into Lebanon in retaliation for the attack on the bus and another incident in which a mine injured two Israeli soldiers.

In Lebanon, the troops captured five senior Syrian intelligence officers, including a brigadier general, just 100 meters from the border, according to the Jerusalem Post the next day. One Lebanese general was killed in the action and an Israeli soldier was injured.

The tour then continued on to Caesarea and Tiberias and returned to Tel Aviv where the tourists stayed in the Hotel Park two days.

On the plane trip home, the group stopped in Frankfurt, Germany, where they saw the home of Goethe, author of Faust. They spent much of their two days there shopping and dining.

Sunday they flew from Germany to New York where they transferred planes and returned to St. Louis.

Males May Marry at 18 Without Consent—Scott

Male liberation advanced a step Monday with the issuance of an opinion that 18-year-old Illinois males can marry without parental consent.

Attorney General William J. Scott has held that present Illinois statutes which allow females to wed at 18 without parental consent—but require males to be 21—discriminate between the sexes and violate the Equal Rights protections of both the Federal and the new Illinois Constitution.

Scott's 9-page opinion, given to State's Attorney Don Johnson of Perry County, cited case law as well as Constitutional guarantees of equal protections and concluded:

"... that under the federal Equal Protection Clause, the Illinois equal protection clause, Article I, sec. 2, and Article I, sec. 18, of the Illinois Constitution providing equal protection to the sexes, sec. 3 of 'An Act to revise the law in relation to marriages' is unconstitutional insofar as it differentiates between the sexes."

"The discrimination arises out of the provision that one who is 18 years old and wishes to marry without parental consent and the other must wait till the age of 21 to avail himself of this right."

"The placing of males and females for marriage purposes in different classes based solely on age differential does not rest upon any grounds of difference having a fair and substantial relation to the object of the legislation, so that all persons similarly circumstanced are treated alike."

"Therefore, the nondiscriminatory age for both would be the lesser, and both male and female may marry without parental consent at age 18."

Copies of the opinion are now being disseminated to the State's Attorney, and County Clerk in Illinois.

Federal Service Exam Saturday at SIU-SW

A federal service entrance examination for professional and management training positions in federal agencies will be given at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in Room 2405 of the Peck classroom building at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

An application for the two-hour test should be filled out in advance at the Placement Office in the SIU-SW General Office Building.

PIZZA HUT BURGLARY

A portable 17-inch television set, two boxes of pizza crust, two cartons of pizza cheese were stolen in a burglary at Ray's Pizza Hut, 2327 Washington Ave., it was reported at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by kicking in the rear door.

Funds Released For Collinsville Treatment Plant

A check for $190,922 for a waste-water treatment project for the city of Collinsville was released Monday by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The grant payment supplements an earlier payment of nearly $400,000 to the city toward a total state pledge of one and one-quarter million dollars.

The check to Collinsville and another check released today—$207,200 to the Urbana-Champaign Sanitary District—brought the total paid out under the state's $750 million Anti-Pollution Bond Act past the $20 million mark.

These payments are evidence the state's program for upgrading its water quality is advancing," Ogilvie said.

Today's check to Collinsville represents partial payment of the state's 25% share of eligible costs for the project, according to William L. Blaser, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. EPA administers the grant program.

The total state aid paid out thus far under the bond act is $20,014,883.

Levee Board Lacks Quorum; No Meeting

A regularly scheduled meeting of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District Board was cancelled yesterday for lack of a quorum when William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, board president, failed to appear.

The other members of the three-man board, James Britte and Lawrence Tolar of East St. Louis, were present for the 10 a.m. meeting, but made no effort to act on district business.

Ebersold walked out of the regular June meeting after a caucus dispute with Tolar.

Two Youths Arrested On Prowling Charges

Ronald A. Kilian, 15, of 2812 Birch Ave., and a juvenile boy, 16, were arrested on prowling charges after police were called to the alley of the 3000 block of Nameoki Road at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Both youths ran as police arrived, police said. Kilian was found hiding under a truck and the other reported to the police station after officers visited his home. Police said they determined that four cases of empty soda bottles which were found in the area were taken from an outside locker at Eddie's Lounge on Nameoki Road.

Senate Accepts Percy Bid For More Education Funds

An amendment by Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) to add $40 million in impacted aid funds to the Education Appropriations Bill has been accepted by the Senate.

The measure would provide financial assistance to hard-pressed school districts which have pupils from public housing projects built with federal dollars.

Percy termed the action a "significant breakthrough," noting that the House, after refusing to appropriate any funds for this effort in previous years, has allocated $10 million this year.

He called upon the House to agree to the higher Senate figure when the bill goes to conference.

The Senate passed Percy's amendment by voice vote after rejecting a proposal by Sen. Clifford Case (R-N.J.) to add $60 million for this impacted aid program.

In offering his amendment, Percy said Illinois public schools are "undergoing a tremendous financial crisis. Assistance to districts with public housing pupils is essential to ease much of the financial uncertainty they now face."

If the full $40 million is finally appropriated, Illinois' share would come to about $3.5 million, with $2.5 million going to the city of Chicago. Percy noted that Chicago alone has 62,000 pupils from public housing—more than 10% of the total enrollment of 570,000.

The funds are so important, Percy noted, because public housing projects built with federal help are exempted from local property tax rolls which provide school districts with most of their needed revenues. The logic behind this program is sound, and failure to provide funds for these impacted districts would be irresponsible and unfair, Percy said.

These funds, he added, would not go to build additional schools, increase teacher salaries or supply special equipment.

"They would compensate school districts for the tax revenues lost when federally-assisted public housing projects are built in their areas. This is clearly our responsibility, and one we cannot ignore."

Architecture Program At SIU Is Approved

The American Institute of Architects has granted official approval to the architectural technology program offered at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Southern's two-year program, conducted through the Vocational-Technical Institute, is the first architectural program in the nation to be approved by the AIA under guidelines issued this spring.

Formal approval of the program is effective for four years and acknowledges that the university offers curricula which form both the foundation for current support activities in architectural practice and the framework for proficiency in emerging and future activities in the profession," according to AIA Executive Vice President William L. Slayton.

VTI Dean Arden L. Pratt said the AIA approval points up the "growing recognition in all professions of the value of technically-trained support personnel."

The SIU program was established in 1954. It had an enrollment of 88 students in the 1971-72 school year.

The AIA said its procedures for approval would provide architectural technicians who are well qualified, as well as bring recognition to the technician movement and to the schools having quality programs and producing capable graduates.

New SIU Entries Advised to Plan Classes Early

Note to prospective college students: Entering Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for the first time fall quarter?

Don't wait until fall quarter to be advised and registered for classes. If you do, you will have only 20 minutes to see your advisor and may risk closed classes holding you up in registration. That's the word from Carol Coventry, graduate intern in charge of pre-registration orientation. She says:

Come down this summer before the fall quarter rush and see your advisor for a 45-minute appointment. Then go through sectioning and the classes you want before they are closed.

In addition you will have the chance to go through pre-registration orientation with your parents, and have any questions answered by Mrs. Carol Coventry.

After the 9:30 a.m. orientation program, you and your parents can board a tour train for a look at the campus and living areas.

Mrs. Coventry has one word of advice for the student pre-registering: Read all material you receive from the university, and bring something to write with.

Students who are unable to make the summer appointment get when accepted to the university are encouraged to contact the admissions office for a new appointment.

Ronee Blakley Bares Her Soul in 1st Album

By JUDY HUGG
Copy News Service

Producer Mark Abramson has found another excellent female recording artist to add to Elektra Records growing list of top vocalists. The newcomer, who will join the ranks with Judy Collins and Carly Simon is Ronee Blakley.

Ronee has an album out that she can be proud of, simply titled "Ronee Blakley." It's nice, which isn't surprising since she has spent a lifetime in the field of music.

Coming from what she calls a "conservative, churchy family," Ronee started, at an early age, by singing hymns. She then moved to musicals, to "How Much Is That Doggie In The Window," and finally fell in love with rock and folk music while in high school.

After high school, Ronee took to the road attending Stanford and Juillard. After a short stint working as an actress and with electronic music, she joined a rock group in Los Angeles. However, the group wasn't what Miss Blakley had expected and it soon fell apart.

Not one to give up, Ronee continued with her playing and writing, the end results which have been captured on her album. The LP has a couple of dull spots but they detract little from a basically charming set.

The album was composed entirely by Ronee who says the music expresses "me without my armor, the way I feel." Some of the best cuts all taken from personal experiences, include "Dues," "Down To The River," a Jesus song with good rhythm in the background; "Bluebird" a catchy tune with Linda Ronstadt on background vocals; and "Attachment" a song about the cause of all sorrow which has its source in a Zen quote.

Ronee sings, writes and plays a Carol King-style piano with equal talent. She rates a "well done" on this, her debut album. The Georgia boy, Jerry Reed, has hit it big. He wears several hats, songwriter, singer and is one of the best guitarists ever!

His album, "The Best of Jerry Reed," (RCA-Victor), is just that—the best of Jerry Reed. He has written more than 200 published songs. This album includes his tunes "Guitar Man," Grammy-winning "When You're Hot, You're Hot" and his hit single "Amos Moses."

You can smell the Georgia pines when he plays and sings "Georgia On My Mind."

Yes, indeed, this is "The Best of Jerry Reed."

Fats Domino
Antoine "Fats" Domino was born May 10, 1929, in New Orleans. He was playing and singing for pennies in the local honky-tonks by the age of ten.

While in his teens, Dave Bartholomew offered him a chance with his band at a roadhouse, and Fats jumped at the chance.

It was the combination of Bartholomew's arrangements and Fats' piano playing that formed the unique sound that made Fats Domino a star of the Fabulous Fifties. He sold 65 million records and garnered 22 gold records.

United Artists has released an album titled simply "Fats Domino." It's a 2-record set including a complete biography of Fats written by Greg Shaw and Mike Ochs. They cover the life and times of Fats Domino with respect and love.

His hits, from his first record to his last, are in this album. The rock 'n' roll classic "Ain't It A Shame" first attracted the white audience to Fats in 1955. There followed "I'm In Love Again," and "Blueberry Hill." These songs, plus 25 others, are yours to enjoy on this superb testament to the amazing career of Fats Domino.

Pamela Pollard has recorded an album of the same name for Columbia which includes all her own songs. Unfortunately the LP is lyrically amateurish. The weak lyrical content does not give Pamela's promising, of her vocal talent a fair chance. Pamela is at her throaty best in "Sing-A Song

Two Charged With Marijuana Possession

George A. Anderson, 22, of 53 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and Adrian Camp, 22, of 84 Jackson St., Madison, were arrested at 12:50 p.m. Tuesday in Venice and were charged with possession of cannabis (marijuana).

Venice police said they saw one of the men picking wild plants and leaves along the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad tracks just north of the new Broadway underpass in Venice, while the other remained at their car on County Road. The car, with its hood open, gave the appearance of being disabled, police said.

When the two sighted police cars, they allegedly drove north on County Road with a squad car in pursuit. At the top of a hill, they allegedly threw a large white shopping bag out of the car window, officers said.

Police stopped the car at County Road and Bissell Street and took the two into custody. Police in another car recovered the shopping bag and reported it contained a large quantity of what is believed to be marijuana plants and leaves. Several leaves also were found inside the car.

Chart Center of Air Force Is Defense Mapping Agency

The U. S. Air Force Aeronautical Chart and Information Center has become the Defense Mapping Agency - Aerospace Center, effective this month.

The Defense Mapping Agency DMA was established on Jan. 1, 1972, by a Department of Defense directive to consolidate the mapping charting and geodesy (MC&G) functions of the separate military services into one agency.

The new agency is designed to obtain optimum efficiency and economy in operations without impairing the legitimate requirements of the separate services. The consolidation includes the USAF Aeronautical Chart and Information Center; the U. S. Army Topographic Command, Washington, D. C.; the DMA Topographic Center; and the Hydrographic Charting Portion of the Naval Oceanographic Office, Washington, D. C., renamed the DMA Hydrographic Center.

Other units included in DMA will be the 1st Geodetic Survey Squadron, USAF; the MC&G portion of the 15th Reconnaissance Technical Squadron, USAF; the Department of Topography of the U. S. Army Engineer School; and the Inter American Geodetic Survey. The two Air Force units will become subordinates of the Aerospace Center with headquarters in St. Louis.

The Army Engineer School and the Inter American Geodetic Survey will be on an equal footing with the other three production centers.

The Defense Mapping Agency, directed by Lt. Gen. Howard W. Penney, U. S. Army, will be headquartered in Washington, D. C.

Air Force Col. Byron L. Schatzley, present commander of ACIC, has been named as the first director of the Aerospace Center in St. Louis. The mission of the organization will remain basically the same under the Defense Mapping Agency.

The St. Louis installation grounds will continue to be owned by the Air Force and will be managed by the St. Louis Air Force Station. The Defense Mapping Agency-Aerospace Center will be a tenant unit of the Air Force Station.

Overseas units currently under ACIC will remain a part of the DMA Aerospace Center. Their titles will be changed from squadrons and detachments to Flight Information Offices.

The new address of the ACIC Office of Information is: DMA-AC (01), St. Louis AFS, Mo. 63118.

Cable Wires Would Go 10 Times Around World

'72 Convention Logistics Are Staggering

When Abraham Lincoln was nominated for president on the third ballot at the Republican National Convention in Chicago on May 18, 1860, it took days for the entire country and the world to learn about it. Communications then were not the best.

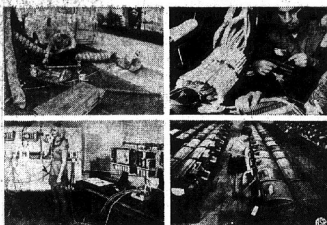

By contrast, the most elaborate and extensive communications system ever put together for a political convention was used for the 1972 Republican National Convention this summer.

Telephone officials estimate that if the cable wires installed for the conventions were laid end to end they would encircle the world about 10 times. About 14,500 feet of submarine and video cable has been placed, much of it buried in the floor of the Biscayne Bay.

Communications demands have been much greater than before, according to Don Strohmeier, assistant to the general manager of Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Miami Beach.

Strohmeier says that many months before the first convention his office had received requests for 7,000 telephone lines, 5,000 lines, 335 televiewers for newsmen, 40 switchboards, 500 pre-packaged key telephone systems, 40 video channels, 700 audio channels, 10,000 service orders, 200 coin phones and 279 pieces of video gear.

The telephone company has leased a total of 55,000 square feet of floor space. There is a 4,000 sq. ft. communications center constructed inside convention hall. The mammoth job of making Preparation for the vast network of communication facilities necessary for the national political conventions was underway for months. (Top left) Crewmen splice M&T splicing kit before entering mainframe to begin cable splicing operation. (Top right) Cable is spliced together. Two men can make up to 100 splices in an hour using the new system. (Bottom left) Splicing equipment is linked by telephone lines to a console at convention's site. (Bottom right) Each of the myriad of teletype wire machines necessary for the convention is carefully checked out ahead of time.

And time is an important factor. Southern Bell figures it had to complete about 38,000 of the modules for the convention communication needs.

One more interesting note: the Fontainebleau Hotel - the host hotel - has more telephones than the town of Key Largo.

Grant to County for Foster Grandparents to Retarded

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has notified Monday of a grant to assist senior citizens and retarded children.

The grant was made to the Madison County Economic Opportunity Council, Inc., in the amount of $191,346 from Action, the citizens service corporation in Washington.

Funds will be used to place 71 persons as foster grandparents to 142 mentally retarded children. The foster grandents will be selected from a low-income group in the Madison County area, according to officials of Action.

The children to be served are residents at the Beverly Farm Foundation, Inc., in Godfrey, and the state's Warren C. Murray Children's Center in Centralia.

Joe Blatchford, director of Action, also announced the grant in Washington. Edward P. Schenk is executive director of the Council.

Cycle Club Sponsors Weekly 2-Hour Rides

The Great River Riders Bicycle Club of Granite City has started a summer series of short rides on Thursday evenings, originating from the Grand Avenue parking area and traffic circle at Granite City High School.

The rides, lasting about two hours, are led by volunteer members of the club. Membership in the group is not required to participate, Mrs. Wanda MacDonough, an officer, explained. However, each rider must pay a 10-cent insurance fee.

Riders under 14 are required to be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Additional rides for club members planned in July, include cycle trips to the SIUSW campus, and in the Edwardsville area; and a weekend trip to Springfield, Mo., to join in a ride with the Springfield Bicycle Club.

The Granite City group recently sponsored a "cycle century run," involving a trip of 100 miles in a 10-hour period.

Of the 30 riders taking part, nine members and guests completed the 100 miles in the allotted time. Those finishing the course were awarded special jacket patches to mark the achievement.

Members have voted to become an American Youth Hostels club. The AYH is an international organization which provides overnight facilities for its members and sponsors hiking, canoeing and bicycling activities.

Employers Urged To Fill Out Forms Properly

Employers are being urged to properly fill out Form 941, Employers Quarterly Federal Tax Return, before mailing them to the Internal Revenue Service.

Some processing problems are being encountered because Form 941 and attached Schedule B are not being filled out properly, IRS officials said. "Whenever the IRS Service Center in Kansas City receives forms or returns from taxpayers that are not properly filled out it is necessary for them to contact the taxpayers to correct the problem," a spokesman said. This results in undue delays to the taxpayer in processing the return.

The primary problem found with Form 941's is when taxpayers fail to correctly list the amounts of Federal Tax Deposits on their quarterly returns. Whenever the amounts listed on the attached Schedule B do not correspond with the taxpayer's Federal Reserve Deposit, processing is delayed until the problem is solved, the spokesman said.

Some Mental Patients Won't Leave Hospitals

Copley News Service
Springfield—Presumably, people confined to a mental institution would think only about getting out.

Actually, the state department of mental health is having to coax many of them to leave the hospitals—which have represented home and security, sometimes for many years. As part of a new approach to dealing with mental health care, the department is attempting, where possible, to get people out of institutions, if they have been judged capable of functioning satisfactorily on the outside.

In particular, large numbers of geriatric patients, whose problems result from aging instead of mental or emotional illness, are being moved out to community facilities from mental hospitals. But many of them don't want to go.

In fact, some flatly refuse to leave. Their own homes are far behind them, their children have grown and gone, their friends are often dead, so what awaits for them outside the hospital walls but a whole new experience, at a time in their lives when anything new is suspect?

Unusual Position
To achieve its goal of lowering populations in the hospitals, the Illinois department of mental health has found itself in the unusual position of having to "sell" its patients on the idea of leaving.

As an example, 31 geriatric patients who had been living at the Kankakee State Hospital recently were taken by the hospital's bus across town to a new shelter-care facility. Newly built, the home was being given its final touches for occupancy.

The 31 senior citizens, who had come to think they belonged in a hospital though testing indicated they didn't, toured the new facility for an hour, investigating the two-bed sleeping rooms, checking on the carpeting, trying out the chairs and inspecting the TV sets and the day rooms. They were served refreshments, and then returned to the hospital, to think it over.

The result? Several long-term patients who had previ-

Rural Development Bill To Aid Madison County

The new Rural Development bill pending final Congressional action has great significance for the St. Clair-Madison Counties area, in the opinion of Cong. Melvin Price (Democrat, 23rd Illinois District).

"Committee hearings have revealed many problems in rural America including substandard housing low income levels, inadequate public services and limited job opportunities," Cong. Price said.

"This bill is designed to provide an effective program to enable rural America to offer living conditions and employment opportunities sufficient to stop the steady flow of rural Americans to the Nation's cities."

"This legislation," continued Cong. Price, "offers positive programs to encourage and assist the development of business, industry, community centers and pollution abatement in our small towns and in the countryside."

"Perhaps the most significant feature of the bill," he explained, "is the expansion of the authority of the Farmer's Home Administration to make our guarantee loans for both existing rural development programs and for business and industrial loans."

Price pointed out that such loans "could make rural communities much more attractive to business and industry and thus result in the creation of many job opportunities."

Some other features of the bill are:
* A $500 million grant and cost sharing program for planning and construction of water, waste disposal, and pollution abatement.

* A $7 million per year pilot program for rural fire protection.

* A $45 million, three-year, research program on improving standards of living in rural areas.

* A $50 million grant program to assist public bodies in encouraging industrial development.

* An increase in the FHA farm operating loan ceiling from $35,000 to $50,000.

"The House Committee on Agriculture," noted Price, "has wisely avoided the creation of a new Federal bureaucracy to administer the Rural Development programs. Instead, these programs will be under the Department of Agriculture with a new assistant secretary of agriculture having overall responsibility.

"It shall be obvious," said Price, "that the programs embodied in the Rural Development bill will go a long way toward making rural life more

Rural Housing Loans Eligibility Extended

Many additional families in the Madison County area are now eligible for rural housing loans from Farmers Home Administration, County Supervisor Wallace Keyser announced today.

"In families where both husband and wife are employed," Keyser explained, "the new policy permits half of the wife's gross income to be excluded in determining whether the total family income is within the maximum limit for loan eligibility."

For example, the husband is the principal source of income with $2,300. His wife earns $3,000. His total income, plus half of his wife's, or $1,500, is $3,800. This is within Illinois' moderate income level of $4,000 so the family may be eligible for a Farmers Home Administration loan.

Families with somewhat higher incomes also may qualify based upon standard adjustments. In determining eligibility the total family income is reduced by 5% and a further reduction of $300 is made for each dependent child.

"The new policies will assist families in which the wife's income is needed to improve the standard of living. The change will in no way affect our expanding service to families with lower incomes," Supervisor Keyser said.

Loans are made to families to buy or build homes in open country or in rural towns of up to 10,000 population. The loans are intended to supplement credit available locally from regular commercial sources. Complete information is available from Keyser and his staff. Applications and inquiries may be directed to Wallace S. Keyser, County Supervisor, 415 East Main St., Belleville, Ill. 62220.

BAKERY RANSACKED

Burglars ransacked Seibold's Bakery in the Bellemeade Village shopping center during the weekend, and the damage was done. Entry was gained by prying the rear door. Ice boxes were left open and the contents were spoiled.

Third Quarter Consumer Check Opens This Week

This week marks the start of third quarter interviewing in this area for the Federal Government's nationwide Consumer Expenditure Survey, according to Mrs. Lorraine Foley, supervisor of the survey area office in St. Louis. During July, August or September, households participating in the survey will be interviewed for the third time, Mrs. Foley said.

The survey, which began in January, is being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, a component of the Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration. The bureau is acting as data collection agent for the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). Results of the survey will provide data on 1972 consumer expenditures, information needed by BLS to update the Consumer Price Index.

Mrs. Foley's office is headquarters for the survey program in the St. Louis-Missouri metropolitan area, including St. Louis, Mo.; Franklin, Ripley, Williamson, Ill.; and Caldwell, Lyons, Marshall, Ky. A sample of about 400 households in these areas, scientifically selected to provide a cross section of all households, will be interviewed a total of five times when the survey is completed in March 1973, Mrs. Foley explained.

A supplementary survey, the Diary Survey, began last week in this area and across the nation. Households in the Diary Survey sample are in addition to those in the quarterly survey and number slightly more.

Diary Survey households are being asked to keep a daily record of their expenditures over a 14-day period. This will provide information about the many small everyday purchases, such as food, cleaning products, and personal care items that people could not be expected to recall over a three-month period.

All information reported in the survey is held in strictest confidence, Mrs. Foley stressed. The interviews are residents of the county in which they are working. Each carries an official identification card with the bearer's photograph and signature.

Interviewers working out of the St. Louis office and their territories include Mrs. Shirley Luce of Wood River who will interview residents in the following areas: St. Louis City, St. Louis County, St. Charles County, and Jefferson County in Missouri, and St. Clair County and Madison County in Illinois.

New Lincoln Documents Acquired by State Library

Three original Abraham Lincoln documents — two previously unknown — have been acquired by the Illinois State Historical Library.

State Historian William K. Alderfer, who made the announcement, explained that by the scholar's definition, an unknown Lincoln letter is one that has never been published or listed publicly and is therefore unknown to librarians, the academic community, and the general public.

Acquisition of the three Lincoln items brings the Historical Library's collection of original Lincoln documents to 1,321, making it the largest in the world's pre-presidential Lincoln manuscripts.

The two new previously unknown Lincoln documents are unrelated to his law cases. The earlier of the two, dated Springfield, Feb. 21, 1851, was written to William Martin of Alton, a stock commissioner for the stock sale in the Alton and Sangamon (now Gulf, Mobile, and Ohio) Railroad.

A stockholder in the railroad himself, Lincoln was representing the company against stock subscribers who, when the route of the railroad was changed, wanted to renege on a promise to purchase stock. Lincoln won the case.

The second previously unknown Lincoln item is a five-line document signed "A. Lincoln, Atty. at Law" and dated May 23, 1854. Lincoln was in Urbana at the time and the document was endorsed with an authorization for attorney Edward W. Wainwright to represent the plaintiffs in an assignment suit.

Lincoln noted that he was acting for Wainwright in entering the appearance of Lincoln in the appearance of the plaintiffs in the Champagne County Circuit Court.

The third new Lincoln holograph (that is, any paper in his handwriting), was printed

Pianist Watts, Trumpet Man 'Doc' On Festival's Stage This Weekend

The Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University — Southern campus — will be a musical event with a difference. On the current side of today's music are Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge, performing on July 11.

Kris, whose unusual background includes a year as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford and as well as five years toward becoming a career officer in the U. S. Army, came under the influence of Johnny Cash and other Nashville-based artists in 1969.

His big break came when Roger Miller and Janis Joplin recorded "Me and Bobby McGee."

"Me and Bobby McGee" and "The Silver-Tongued Devil and I" are among his top hits and also the titles of his two albums.

Other Kristofferson hits include "Help Me Make It Through the Night," "Loving Her Was Easier" and "Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down."

Rita Coolidge is now making a big name on her own, but she has come up to this spot by first being one of the busiest studio vocalists around — with

Communications Series Set by TV Channel 9

The "communication gap" is the center of five typical, real-life situations filmed for television in a new series titled "The Space Between Words," transmitted by the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) and aired locally on public television station KETC-TV, Channel 9.

Part one of "The Space Between Words" series is a ninety-minute sequence titled "Family," telecast at 7 p.m., Monday, July 10, as part of the "Special of the Week" series aired each Monday on Channel 9.

The remaining four programs are an hour in length and will be aired at 7:30 p.m., Fridays, beginning July 14.

In addition to "Family," the telecasts will focus on communication problems experienced in "School," "Work," "Politics" and "Diplomacy."

The participants in each sequence are not actors, but instead typical people in normal, daily activities that are recorded on film. Also, neither dialogue nor activity was staged or repeated for the filming to produce real-life detail and drama.

About 30 hours of film were condensed to the 90-minute "Family" in which an actual British family interact and communicate with one another and the therapist that they sought for counseling. The source of the problem is their 16-year-old son who resents his mother's divorce, his new stepfather and the two small children of the second marriage.

"School," to be aired on July 14, focuses on the communication breakdown that blocks learning, as a young London teacher attempts to "reach" an unresponsive, problem group of pupils.

Interested viewers may receive a copy of Channel 9's monthly program guide, "Kaleidoscope," free upon request by writing to KETC-TV, Channel 9, 6966 Millbrook, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.
